OBJECTS.

The object of this Society is to collect and publish material bearing upon the history of America, and to promote the study of Jewish history in general, preferably so far as the same is related to American Jewish history or connected with the causes of emigration from various parts of the world to this continent. It is known that Jews in Spain and Portugal lent no inconsiderable aid to the voyages that led to the discovery of America, that a few accompanied the earliest discoverers and that Jews were among the first settlers on this continent, and in its adjacent islands. Considerable numbers saw service in the Colonial and Revolutionary wars, some of them with great distinction. Others contributed liberally to the Continental treasury, at critical periods, to aid in the establishment of Independence. Since the foundation of our government, Jews have played an active part in the political affairs of the country, and have been called upon to hold important public positions. The records of the achievements of these men will, when gathered together, prove of value and interest to the historian, and perchance cast light upon some obscure parts of the history of our country.

PREFACE.

This Bibliography was formally presented by the compiler at the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the American Jewish Historical Society held in Philadelphia in 1918, and is now issued pursuant to a vote of the Executive Council of the Society.

It was the original intention of the Society to issue it as a preliminary publication, in a limited edition, for private circulation only, in order to elicit additional titles, the location of copies, the correction of errors, and unnoticed bibliographical details and collations. It was to be sent out to librarians and scholars with a hope that it would be returned with additions and corrections. In the course of the last few years, through the great kindness and courtesy on the part of bibliographical students throughout the world, this list grew to such proportions that the Executive Council thought it advisable to publish the work in a more permanent form, and it is now issued with facsimiles of the title pages of the rarer volumes, and an index.

The compiler does not for a moment think that the work is at all complete, and he is fully aware that there are many titles yet to be listed. He would therefore, appreciate it if anyone interested in the subject would send him additional titles so that they may be included in a later issue of the Publications of the Society. However inadequate and inefficient this bibliography may be, and he does not pretend it to be otherwise than either, it is, he thinks, the only extensive list of its kind, and will at least form a nucleus for future study, and he sincerely trusts it will be of value to all students and lovers of Judaica, and to all those interested in the history of the Jews in the United States. A bibliography is after all only an aid and help-mate to scholars, and it is hoped that this great mass of material will prove a stepping-stone and incentive to greater things.

In glancing through this list of books printed in the United States, relating to the Jews of this country from the establishment of the Press in the Colonies (1640) until the year 1850, one is struck by the wealth of material and the promising field for original research. The knowledge of Hebrew and the Bible possessed by the early divines of New England can be gleaned from the perusal of these pages and the names of Increase and Cotton Mather, their great opponent George Keith, Samuel Sewall, Samuel Willard, and Benjamin Colman, are of frequent occurrence. The story of the first Hebrew Grammar, the first Jewish Prayer Book, the first Hebrew Bible, the first Jewish Almanac, the first American editions of Josephus, the earliest Jewish newspapers, can be traced by a study of the titles contained in this bibliography.

The history of the teaching of the Hebrew language in America has never been written in a proper manner, and it would be well for some student, interested in the spread of Hebrew culture and learning, to pursue this attractive subject, using for his guide the books herein listed. The early grammarians and lexicographers, Judah Monis, Stephen Sewall, John Smith, Clement C. Moore, Moses Stuart, E. N. Carvalho, Edward Robinson (the translator of Gesenius), T. J. Conant, and many others, may be studied and the history of their work set forth for the first time. The careers of the two great preachers, Gershom Mendes Seixas and Isaac Leeser run like a thread through our text; where we can also trace the fascinating story of Jewish civic and religious life in the United States in the eighteenth century and the early nineteenth century; the interest in the opening of the Ohio and Illinois country, and the participation of the Jews therein; the beginning of the Synagogues, the first Jewish Sunday Schools, the first charitable organizations, the land speculations, the genesis of the Reform Movement, the missionaries and the well-known converts, the early Jewish dramatists and authors, the controversial writers, believers in the theory of the Jewish origin of the American Indians, the massacres in the East, and descriptions of Palestine, and expeditions to the River Jordan; the constitutions and by-laws of early congregations and educational societies; and all the details that the able historian can transform, as if by magic, into a vivid picture of the times.

A word must be said as to the scheme of the present work. The titles are given in full with the format and the number of pages of each volume. For the assistance of scholars who may be desirous of consulting and examining the books in question, the location of copies in public and private libraries is given. This, however, I know to be far from complete, as it was impossible to collate the volumes in every library in this country and in Europe, although no efforts have been spared to make it as accurate as possible.

An attempt has also been made to give the first use of Hebrew type in each locality. For instance, the first book printed in the American Colonies, The Bay Psalm Book, Cambridge, Stephen Daye, 1640, contained Hebrew type; and it is of curious interest that among the first books printed in New York—Keith's New England Spirit of Persecution, 1693, and Keith's Truth Advanced, 1694—both issued from the press of William Bradford, contain Hebrew type. They are Numbers 3 and 4 of the present bibliography, and facsimiles are given of pages showing the earliest use in New York of Hebrew characters. The first Hebrew alphabet published in Philadelphia is contained in Jacob Taylor's Compleat Ephemeris, printed by Samuel Keimer in 1726 (see No. 24).

It gives me great pleasure to express my most cordial thanks to the many scholars, librarians, and owners of private collections who have helped me in this work. First of all, to Dr. Cyrus Adler, at the time of the inception of the work, President of the American Jewish Historical Society, who frequently discussed with me the necessity of such a publication, and who has ever since been of invaluable assistance to me. I would like to express my heartfelt appreciation of the help derived from the greatest of bibliographers, and the gentlest of men, Dr. Wilberforce Eames, who has been my mentor and my guide, and without whose aid this work would never have appeared.

I am also under the greatest obligations to my friend, Professor Alexander Marx, Librarian at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, New York, from whose fount of bibliographical lore I have unhesitatingly drawn. To Mr. Clarence S. Brigham, Librarian of the American Antiquarian Society, Worcester, Massachusetts, I am most profoundly indebted, as well as to Dr. Joshua Bloch, Chief of the Jewish Division of the New York Public Library; also to Dr. Joseph Reider, Librarian of the Dropsie College for Hebrew and Cognate Learning, Philadelphia; Mr. A. S. Oko, the Librarian of the Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati; Dr. George Watson Cole, and Mr. Leslie E. Bliss, Librarian of the Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery, San Gabriel, California; Mr. Bunford Samuel, Librarian of the Ridgway Branch of the Library Company of Philadelphia; Dr. Randolph G. Adams, Librarian of the William L. Clements Library, Ann Arbor, Michigan; Dr. Lawrence C. Wroth, of the John Carter Brown Library, Providence, R. I.; Dr. Thomas Lynch Montgomery, Librarian, Historical Society of Pennsylvania; Mr. John Ashhurst, Librarian, Free Library of Philadelphia; Dr. George Parker Winship, of the Harvard College Library; Dr. Charles F. D. Belden, Director of the Boston Public Library; Dr. Herbert Putnam, Librarian of Congress; and to Charles Evans, Esq., the author of the invaluable American Bibliography.

It is most gratifying to express my deep appreciation of the assistance derived from owners of two fine collections of American Judaica: Lee M. Friedman, Esq., of Boston, and the Rev. George Alexander Kohut, of New York, both members of the Executive Council of the Society, from whom I secured titles inaccessible elsewhere. Mr. Kohut was gathering the material for a similar bibliography which he generously placed at my disposal. I have also drawn from the private collections of Mr. Charles J. Cohen, of Philadelphia, Mr. August Kohn, of Columbia, S. C. and Mr. E. D. Coleman, of Brooklyn, N. Y. I am also indebted to my old and valued friend, Mr. Lathrop C. Harper, of New York, who has supplied me with a description of many rare volumes, and to Mr. Charles F. Heartman, of Metuchen, N. J., from whom I secured some unique titles.

It gives me pleasure at this time to express my obligations to Max J. Kohler, Esq., one of the Vice-Presidents, to the Curator of the Society, Leon Huhner, Esq., of New York, to Mrs. Leon Solis-Cohen, its clerk, and to Samuel Oppenheim, Esq., the Recording Secretary. I am indebted particularly to Albert M. Friedenberg, Esq., the able Corresponding Secretary and Chairman of the Publication Committee of the Society, who has read the proofs and made most valuable suggestions in the course of the work, which has covered a period of over eight years. I want to thank also most warmly Mr. Percy E. Lawler, to whose care was entrusted the work of preparing the facsimiles. To the enthusiastic efforts of Miss E. M. Sowerby are due the addition of numerous titles, and the final preparation of all the material for the press, including the index. Miss Sowerby spent over a year collating the volumes and doing research work in various American libraries, and I cannot speak too highly of her disinterested endeavors.

It is a pity that this bibliography only goes as far as the year 1850 when the Far West was beckoning to the East, when California was opening its golden doors, and when the rumors of Secession were just beginning. The second half of the nineteenth century and the first quarter of the twentieth century would prove perhaps a more interesting subject for our readers, and it is to be hoped that new hands will take up the work where I have left off.

A. S. W. Rosenbach.

The "Bay Psalm Book" was the first book to be published in the English settlements in America. It was translated directly from the Hebrew text. The preface (by Richard Mather) contains the first dissertation on Hebrew poetry and language to be published in America. Hebrew type is used for the first time on the western continent. See the preface, sig. *² (three words in Hebrew); ³ (a Hebrew letter) and the verso of the same leaf (two Hebrew words); also the 119th Psalm where the entire Hebrew Alphabet is given. As there was no font of Hebrew type in America at that time the Hebrew characters were specially cut for the book.

As there are only ten copies known of the original edition (as above) students are advised to consult the Facsimile Reprint issued by the New England Society, which contains an excellent introduction by Dr. Wilberforce Eames.

times, That he would take no advantage by words spoke at such times; but we find them practise the contrary; for on a certain time T. L. stood up, and affirmed, That G. K. was guilty of Contradiction, and being put to prove it, said, That fifteen years ago in his printed Books he owned the Seed to be Christ: Whereupon G. K. said, Thou Impudent man, I do not deny it now, but own it as much as ever. But by all the diligent enquiry that I have made, I cannot find that G. K. said, he was not fit to be Governour, but if he had so said, I query, Whether it was such an intollerable Expression? 1st. Because it is expresly provided by the second Chapter of the Laws of this Province, That all Officers and Persons commissionated and imployed in the Government, shall be such as profess and declare, They believe in Jesus Christ to be the Son of God the Saviour of the World, &c. But, 2dly. Tho. Lloyd its well known, has often denyed and argued against the Faith of Christ, as he dyed for our sins, &c. And as to G. K. saying, That his Name would stink, T. L. knows in his Conscience, that it was spoke to him only as he was one of the 28 unjust Judges, for giving of false Judgment against him, and that without all hearing or Tryal. And as touching the Person whom they say, he call'd, Impudent Rascal, it was one whom he know not to be constituted, as they say he was; but his Brother being so constituted, and refusing to serve, the People of the Town chose him in his Brothers stead to serve as a Magistrate within that Town bounds, which was altogether unknown to G. K. and therefore Paul's excuse, Acts 23. 4. I wist not Brethren that it was the High Priest, might be an Apology for him. But let us consider the word Rascal; according to Gouldman's Dictionary, a Rascal is a Brawler, and Empty Talker, and one that deceiveth is Neighbour by false and weak Arguments, and Cole in his Latine & English Dictionary saith, the Latine word Nebulo, cometh of the Hebrew word נבל Nabal, and any ordinary School-Boy that hath but learned his Accidence, knoweth that Nebulo signifieth, Rascal, Villian, Knave or Rogue, and in Scripture we find the same word, see Isa. 32. 6. כי נבל נבלה ידבר For the Rascal will speak Villiany; and Jer. 29. 23. עשו נבלה They commit Villiany; and as Gouldman in his Dictionary saith, a Villian and a Rascal is of the same Signification. But this Person whom they mention, went about to deceive his Neighbours by false and weak Arguments, *viz. The tract is by George Keith, who was well acquainted with the Hebrew tongue. As there was no font with the Hebraic characters in the province the type was probably specially cut by Bradford for the volume. Some bibliographers, including the late Charles R. Hildeburn and Mr. Wilberforce Eames, are of the opinion that this book was printed by Bradford in New York, immediately after his departure from Philadelphia.

"The Wars of the Jews: In two books, with the . . . . History of the Siege and Destruction of . . . . Jerusalem . . . . Epitomized from the Works of Flavius Josephus. Translated into English by Sir R. L'Estrange. Boston: 1721."

Collation: 12°. Title from Evans, who does not locate a copy, nor state where he secured his information, and so far I have been unable to find it on the shelves of any library. It was undoubtedly printed in Boston for Daniel Henchman and sold at his Corner Shop over against the Brick Meeting House in Corn Hill. This we know from the advertisement of it printed at the end of "The Confession of Faith," together with the Larger Catechism; Composed by the Reverend Assembly of Divines then sitting at Westminster. Boston, Re-printed by S. Kneeland for D. Henchman, at his Shop in Corn-Hill, 1723." (Copy in NYPL.) We reproduce in facsimile this advertisement, which also contains a mention of "Colman's Discourse at R. Judah Monis his Baptism, with Three Discourses by Mr. Monis himself." Haven, in his list, has the following entry under the year 1721: "Wars of the Jews, Epitomized from the Works of Flavius Josephus, Boston."

30. Nathan Ben Saddi, Chronicle, 1744.

The Chronicle of the Kings of England. Written in the manner of the ancient Jewish historians. By Nathan Ben Saddi, a Priest of the Jews. London, printed. Newport: reprinted by the Widow Franklin, 1744.

Collation: 16°, pp. 56.

First American edition, from the first London edition, 1740, 1. Lord Chesterfield is usually credited with the authorship of this Chronicle—the fore-runner of many sham chronicles in mock biblical style—though Nathan Ben Saddi was said to be the pseudonym of Robert Dodsley, and the Chronicle is reprinted in his collected Trifles.

Numerous editions were printed in this country, not listed in this Bibliography as not being genuine Judaica. The edition of Litchfield, 1791, is of peculiar interest as being attributed on the title-page to "the late Dr. Franklin." The reproduction given is of the title-page of the edition of 1773.

Vol. I. has a frontispiece portrait of Flavius Josephus. Engr. by Riddell (Glasgow).

Copy located: ASWR.

It will be noticed in this Bibliography that three editions, with three different imprints, were published in America in the year 1773.

I. London. Printed, Philadelphia: Reprinted by W. and T. Bradford, for John McGibbons. [See No. 55.]

II. New York: Printed for Hugh Gaine. [See No. 56.]

III. New York: Printed for Samuel Lowdon. [See No. 57.]

There was an edition of Josephus issued in London in 1773 whch is identical (except for the title-pages) with the Hugh Gaine edition. The portrait of Josephus, used as a frontispiece to Vol. I of both the Lowdon and Gaine editions, was engraved by Riddell in Glasgow. There is a Glasgow edition of 1773 listed in the Catalogue of the British Museum, which has titles apparently identical with the Loudon and Gaine issues. It is also called "Seventh Edition" on the title-page of Volumes I and III, the second volume in all three editions is without it. It is the opinion of Dr. Wilberforce Eames that both the Loudon and the Gaine edition were printed in Glasgow in 1773 for the American publishers. The imprint in the Loudon issue is misspelled Lowdon on the title-page of Vol. I, which error, according to Dr. Eames, would have been impossible in a New York printer. It is therefore extremely probable that both New York editions were printed by the same printer in Glasgow for the use of Hugh Gaine and Samuel Loudon, a practice which has continued until the present day. The Philadelphia edition, issued in 1773, was unquestionably printed in that city by the celebrated printing house of W. and T. Bradford.

By the Hon. Major General ARNOLD, Commander in Chief of the forces of the United States of America, in the city of Philadelphia, &c.

A PROCLAMATION.

IN order to protect the perſons and property of the inhabitants of this city from inſult and injury, to ſecure the public and private ſtores, which the enemy may have left in the city, and to prevent the diſorder and confuſion naturally ariſing from want of government, his Excellency General WASHINGTON, in compliance with the following reſolution of Congreſs, has thought proper to eſtabliſh military law in this city and ſuburbs, until the civil authority of the ſtate can reſume the government thereof.

In CONGRESS, June 4, 1778.

Reſolved, That ſhould the city of Philadelphia be evacuated by the enemy, it will be expedient and proper for the Commander in Chief to take effectual care that no inſult, plunder, or injury of any kind, may be offered to the inhabitants of the ſaid city: That, in order to prevent public or private injury from the operations of ill diſpoſed perſons, the General be directed to take early and proper care to prevent the removal, transfer, or ſale of any goods, wares, or merchandize, in poſſeſſion of the inhabitants of the ſaid city, until the property of the ſame ſhall be aſcertained by a Joint Committee, conſiſting of perſons appointed by Congreſs, and of perſons appointed by the Supreme Executive Council of the State of Pennſylvania, to wit, ſo far as to determine whether any or what Part thereof may belong to the king of Great Britain, or to any of his ſubjects.

Extract from the minutes. CHARLES THOMSON, Sec.

Copy by command of his Excellency.
Robert Harriſon, Sec.

In order the more effectually to carry into execution the above reſolve, all perſons having European, Eaſt, or Weſt India goods, iron, leather, ſhoes, wines, and proviſions of every kind, beyond the neceſſary uſe of a private family, are ordered to make return of the ſame to the Town Major (at his quarters in Front-ſtreet, the fourth door from the Coffee-houſe) by twelve o'clock tomorrow, ſpecifying the quantity, and, as nearly as they can judge, the amount of the ſame, in order that the Quarter-Maſter, Commiſſary and Clothier Generals may contract for ſuch goods as are wanted for the uſe of the army; and until permiſſion is given by the General, there be no removal, transfer, or ſale of any goods, as it will be deemed a breach of the above reſolution of Congreſs, and ſuch goods will be ſeiſed and confiſcated for the public uſe.

All perſons having in their hands public ſtores or effects, the property of the ſubjects of the king of Great Britain, or their adherents, who have departed with them, are to make a like report by Monday noon next, under penalty of the confiſcation of their own effects; and any perſons diſcovering any ſuch Concealed ſtores or effects will be ſuitably rewarded.

Any perſons harbouring or concealing any officer, ſoldier, or other perſon belonging to the enemy, or any deſerter from the continental army, will be ſeverely puniſhed, unleſs they make immediate diſcovery to ſome officer of the ſaid army.

Given at head quarters, in the city of

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE Subſcriber begs leave to inform the Public, That he hath laid out a Town, called AARONSBURGH, in the county of Northumberland, very pleaſantly ſituated, in that beautiful, healthy, and fertile ſettlement, called Penn's Valley; which is well known to be capable of every improvement, and which recommends itſelf as one of the firſt ſituations on the continent for an inland Town.

THIS Town conſiſts of upwards of Four Hundred Lots, from fifty-five feet to ſixty feet in breadth, and from one hundred and ninety feet to two hundred and thirty feet in depth, according to their reſpective ſituations. The Streets are fifty feet wide, and interſect each other at right angles; the Alleys are twenty feet wide:—the Centre Street, extending north and ſouth, called "Aaron's Square," is, from North ſtreet to South ſtreet, one hundred and ſixty feet wide, in order to admit of Public Buildings, if, at a future day, any ſhould be erected; the remaining part of ſaid Street, at north and ſouth end, is eighty feet wide; and the Centre Street, extending eaſt and weſt, called "Rachel's way," is one hundred feet wide throughout.

THIS Town is within two miles and an half of that fine navigable creek called Penn's Creek, which will command a trade to Baltimore, or any other part of the States, being only eighty miles diſtant from that flouriſhing town, one hundred and twenty from Philadelphia, forty from Carliſle, and about thirty miles weſt of Sunbury.

THERE will be a great advantage from the new road that is to be laid out to Fort Pitt, which, it is expected, will run through this town. Add to this, the advantage of its being in the centre of the moſt flouriſhing part of the State, for grain and other country produce; and as there is a part of the counties of Northumberland, Cumberland and Bedford, to be formed into a ſeparate county, this being the centre, it is expected will be the county town. There are on this ſpot, and places adjacent, ſtone quarries, far ſuperior to Carliſle; and timber for building, equal to any in the ſtate. There is now a great road leading from the city of Philadelphia through this town, and into which the aforeſaid new road to Fort Pitt, it is expected, will ſtrike.

Propoſals, or Terms of Sale, of the Lots, are as follow, viz.

THE Lots are to be numbered and ſold at ſix dollars each (to be paid on delivery of the ticket) and one dollar ground rent, per annum, redeemable at any time, by the payment of twenty Spaniſh ſilver dollars. As ſoon as three hundred tickets are ſold, a lottery will be drawn of the lots, at the town of Northumberland, in the ſaid county (which it is expected will be by the firſt day of October next, as a great number of tickets are already engaged) after which an indiſputable title will be given to every purchaſer for ſuch lot or lots as ſhall be drawn againſt his name (the deeds to be at the expence of the purchaſer).

A SUFFICIENT number of lots, in different parts of the town, will be reſerved to accommodate religious ſocieties, of every denomination, for building places of worſhip, and out-lots will be reſerved for burial places.

ANY perſon inclining to have one or more out-lots, may be accommodated with lots from one to five acres, at a reaſonable rate.

PLANS of the town to be ſeen, and TICKETS to be had, at Philadelphia, at Potts-town,
at Reading,
at Lancaſter,
at Carliſle,
at York-Town,
and of the Subſcriber, at the town of Northumberland aforeſaid.

Nothing appears to be known about the authorship of this work, which was frequently reprinted in this country. Erra Pater was probably the pseudonym of some Gentile astrologer. BIBLICAL criticism, which, during the infancy of our country, has been left, almost exclusively, to the men of learning in Europe, is beginning to assume a new aspect in the United States. Theological controversy, though often conducted with a spirit unfavourable to truth and christianity, has the effect to elicit genius, encourage research, and thus to lead to critical investigation. At a time when an important controversy is commencing in the United States, involving on one side, the charge of idolatry; and on the other, the imputation of denying the Saviour in his essential character, an American edition of the Hebrew Bible seems peculiarly seasonable. Israel's Advocate;

OR,

THE RESTORATION OF THE JEWS CONTEMPLATED AND URGED.

For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the reconciling of them be, but life from the dead? Rom. xi. 15.

VOL. I. FEBRUARY, 1823. No. II.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE CONVERSION OF THE JEWS.*

GENUINE and diffusive benevolence should distinguish every Christian; and objects present themselves on all sides, calculated to call forth that godlike disposition. The poor we have always with us, and at any time we may do them good. But to relieve the temporal necessities of the poor, is one of the smallest and most limited spheres of benevolence, though necessary to its existence, and to demonstrate its genuineness in all its other operations. Its noblest object is the communication of spiritual good—raising degraded mortals, or shall I rather say immortals, from ignorance and misery, and restoring them to the knowledge, the favour, and the image of God. Hereby we tread more directly in the footsteps of that adorable Redeemer, to whose matchless love we owe our own eternal hopes.

And here how extensive a field opens before us! Not now to mention the multitudes of profligate sinners every where around us in reformed countries—or the multitudes in popish countries; or the millions of pagans whose degraded condition and long neglected miseries, if not their hearts and voices, are crying "come over and help us"—let me only remind you of the state of the scattered seed of Abraham, and of the claims they have to our benevolent exertions.

I. The obligations we are under to them. The divine promise to Abraham has been fulfilled by means of his descendants, namely, that in his seed should all the families of the earth be blessed. Our blessedness comes originally from God, and to him will the praise ultimately redound; but the instruments by whom He has sent this blessedness claim our gratitude; and, if in circumstances that need, or even admit it, have the first demand on our pity and our help. Now these are Jews.

*This article is the substance of a speech delivered on the 27th of August, 1814, by the Rev. William Steadman, Divinity Tutor in the Baptist Academy, at Bradford. Yorkshire, Eng.

THE Advocate being three numbers before me, and being confined to one sheet to answer them, I must, without prefatory remarks, proceed to their examination.

He then enumerates: 1st, "The obligations we are under to them;" 2nd, the injuries we have formerly done them; 3d, the very awful apprehensions we are compelled to entertain concerning them, while they remain unconverted; 4th, the visible and glorious display of divine power and mercy, in their conversion; 5th, the aspect this great event will have on the salvation of the world at large. The two last, I cannot at present notice at all: and the first three but lightly; weightier matter precluding them from the consideration they perhaps merit.

In regard to the 1st, on the obligations they are under to the Jews, he says, that all their blessings came to them through the instrumentality of Jews. "The first propa-

DISCOURSE

STRUCTURE

POETRY OF THE HEBREWS.

BY ALEXANDER DWYER, A. M. T. C. D.

By the waters of Babylon—there we sat down;
Yea, shed tears, as we remembered Zion:
On the willows in the midst of it, we suspended our harps:
For, there, they who took us captive asked of us the words of a song;
And they who spoiled us [required] mirth:—
'Sing for us [part] of a song of Zion.'—
'How shall we sing the song of Jehovah in a foreign land?'

And put to open shame by the Hicksites;

Proved by their own FAITH and WORDS.

It is a well known notorious fact, that the Hicksites have declared that that Body of Jesus Christ offered without the Gates of Jerusalem was not the True Christ, that the Light and Life exclusively and abstractedly constitute Jesus Christ without any thing to do with his personal appearance—thus we often meet with the like following expressions in their writings, "viz: The meek non-resisting Spirit and Life of the Lamb." Now, it is self-evident that if this meek non-resisting light and life of the Lamb constitute separately and abstractedly the True and Real Jesus Christ the Son of the Living God—have they not crucified him afresh, and put him to open shame whenever they go contrary to this meek non-resisting Spirit? Do they not bury him spiritually and entomb him? putting him in the grave and setting guards or a watch at the gates? who are acting in direct opposition to the meek non-resisting spirit, and murder Christ in those who really possess his Spirit. "And Pilate said unto them, ye have a watch—(that is a Guard) go your way, make it as sure as ye can." So they went and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch. And behold there was a great earthquake, for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled the stone from the door and sat upon it. His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow, and for Fear of him, the Keepers, [i. e. Guards] did shake and become as dead men. Mark this, all ye Hicksites, who have made open profession of this principle; "the meek, non-resisting Spirit of the Lamb." It is now being Tested before the world. Ye first denied the external bodily appearance, being Jesus Christ, and now ye are denying his spirit, Alas—and now for fear of him, Oh, ye, keepers, ye are beginning to shake, and ye will soon become as dead men in the religious world, unless ye will live up to your profession.

Warder Cresson.

N. B. Jesus Christ certainly could not possess any thing more than the SPIRIT and BODY, therefore, if both are denied, the ☞ Whole Christ is denied. ☜ [Montreal, 1834].

REPORT.

The SPECIAL COMMITTEE to whom was referred the Message of His Excellency the Governor in Chief of the 8th February 1834, relating to the Act 1st. Will. IV. cap. 57, intituled, "An Act to declare "persons professing the Jewish Religion, entitled to "all the rights and privileges of the other Subjects of "His Majesty in this Province," and other references, have the honor to REPORT:

That by the Common Law of England, a lawful oath is a solemn affirmation made by one who believes in the existence of God, and in a future state of rewards and punishments, of the truth of a fact, or a solemn promise to do or abstain from some act,—administered by competent authority,—the party making the same calling upon God to take notice of what he says, and invoking his vengeance, or renouncing his favor, if what he says be false, or what he promises be not performed. The forms of oaths, like other religious ceremonies, have been always various; and, by the Common Law of England, the religious ceremonies required by different religions, even Pagan or Heathen religions, have not only been permitted, but required, as being in accordance with religious toleration, and in furtherance of truth, the great end sought by this high form of sanction.

The oath to be taken by Justices of the Peace in Lower Canada, must be required either by the Criminal Law of England, as introduced by the Statute of the Imperial Parliament, 14 Geo. III. cap. 83 or by some Statute either of the Imperial Parliament or of the Provincial Legislature, requiring this form of qualification.

Generally speaking, the qualifications of Justices of the Peace, as settled by the various English Statutes, are not applicable to the condition of the Province, nor have they ever obtained therein: and although the general body of the Criminal Law of England was introduced into this Province by the beforementioned Statute of the 14 Geo. III., yet those provisions thereof which, from their nature and object, have no just application to the Colony, cannot be considered as forming a part of the Criminal Law of this country. The particular qualification required by the British Statute, of the oath of abjuration, may perhaps be found as little applicable to the Colony at the time of the passing of the 14 Geo. III. as the other qualifications required by the same laws as to landed property, &c. confessedly are.

The argument as stated against the right of Jews to hold the office of Justice of the Peace has been stated as follows:—By the Law of England, every Justice must, within six calendar months, take the oaths of allegiance, abjuration, &c. as other persons qualifying for office. Upon the introduction of the Criminal Law of England into this Province, the Laws respecting the qualifications of Justices in England came to be in force; and it is thence inferred that every Justice, upon his appointment in this country, must take and subscribe the oaths of allegiance, supremacy and abjuration, the latter of which is required to be taken "upon the true faith of a Christian."

This brings us to the consideration of the British Statutes relating to Jews, and their holding office in the Colonies.

RAPPORT.

Le Comité Spécial auquel a été référé le Message de Son Excellence, le Gouverneur-en-Chef, du 8 Février 1834, relativement à un Acte de la 1ère. Guillaume IV. chapitre 57, intitulé, "Acte pour déclarer que les "personnes qui professent le Judaisme ont le bénéfice "de tous les droits et privilèges des autres Sujets de "Sa Majesté en cette Province," et autres références, à l'honneur de faire rapport:]

Que, par la Loi Commune d'Angleterre, un serment est une affirmation solemnelle d'un fait, que fait une personne qui croit à l'existence de Dieu, et à un état futur de récompenses et de châtimens, ou bien c'est une promesse solemnelle de faire ou de ne pas faire quelque acte; ce serment doit être administré par une autorité compétente; et la partie que le fait prend Dieu à témoin de la vérité de ce qu'elle dit, et elle appelle sa vengeance, ou renonce à sa faveur, si ce qu'elle dit est faux; ou si elle n'accomplit pas ce qu'elle a promis. La formule des sermens, comme toutes autres cérémonies religieuses, a toujours varié; et, par la loi commune en Angleterre, les cérémonies religieuses prescrites par les différentes religions, et même par celle des Payens et des Idolâtres, ont non seulement été tolérées, mais elles ont même été requises, comme étant en harmonie avec la tolérance religieuse, et tendant à faire découvrir la vérité; qui est le grand but auquel on veut parvenir, par une affirmation aussi imposante.

Le serment que doivent prendre les Juges de Paix dans le Bas-Canada, doit être exigé, soit en vertu de la Loi Criminelle d'Angleterre, introduite par le Statut du Parlement Impérial de la 14me. George III, chapitre 83 ou de quelque autre Statut du Parlement Impérial ou de la Législature Provinciale, qui impose cette forme de qualification.

En général, les qualifications des Juges de Paix, établies par les différens Statuts anglais ne sont pas applicables à l'état de la Province, et elles n'y ont jamais été mises en vigueur; et quoique le corps général des lois criminelles d'Angleterre ait été introduit dans cette Province, par la 14me. George III; néanmoins les dispositions de cet Acte qui, dans leur nature et leur but, n'ont aucune application à la Colonie, ne peuvent pas être considérées, comme formant partie de la loi criminelle de ce Pays. On trouvera peut-être que la qualification du serment d'abjuration, requise par le Statut Britannique, étoit aussi peu applicable à la Colonie, lorsque la 14me. George III, a été passée, que le sont sans contredit les qualifications requises par les même lois, quant à la propriété foncière.

Voici l'argument que l'on fait valoir, pour faire voir que les Juifs n'ont pas le droit d'être nommés à la charge de Juge de Paix: La loi d'Angleterre exige que tout Juge de Paix prête les sermens d'allégéance, d'abjuration &c., dans les six mois, comme toutes les autres personnes qui se qualifient pour tenir un emploi civil. Lors de l'introduction de la loi criminelle d'Angleterre en cette Province, les lois relatives aux qualifications des Juges de Paix en Angleterre, devinrent en force; et l'on conclut de là, que tout Juge de Paix, lorsqu'il est nommé à cette charge dans ce Pays, doit souscrire et prêter les sermens d'allégéance, de suprématie, et d'abjuration; et l'on exige que ce dernier serment soit prêté "sur la vraie foi d'un Chrétien."

Cela nous mène à la considération des Statuts Britanniques, qui ont rapport aux Juifs, et à leur acceptation d'emplois dans les Colonies.

A proposal put forth by Isaac Leeser to establish a school "where the children might acquire a correct knowledge of the Hebrew, together with a thorough English education."

Copy located: ASWR.

TO THE JEWISH INHABITANTS OF PHILADELPHIA.

HAVING been frequently urged by various respectable residents of this city to establish a school, where the children might acquire a correct knowledge of the Hebrew, together with a thorough English education; and being at the same time fully impressed with the conviction, that our children would be greatly benefitted, if they were early instructed in a public school, in the precepts of the holy religion which was handed down to the children of Israel, as the best gift God could bestow on His people: I have come to the resolution to offer my services to both congregations of Israelites (and also to such Christians as might be willing to send their children to such an institution) to open a school—as soon as sufficient encouragement is held out—wherein are to be taught Hebrew reading (both Portuguese and German Minhag); Translating from Hebrew into English; the Principles of the Jewish Religion (on the basis of Johlson's Instruction, translated by me about five years ago); English Grammar; Geography; History; Arithmetic and Writing. For the present these are the only branches which I intend teaching; but at a future time, instruction in Latin, Greek, German, French, Spanish, Italian, Natural History, Natural Philosophy, Drawing, Singing, &c. may be added, if the capacity of the scholars will admit of it, for which extra compensation will of course be expected.

A school like the one herewith proposed, is very much needed in this country, since there is not one, in any city of this extensive land, where a Jewish child can obtain a knowledge of its religious duties. If therefore our people are really alive to the importance of a religious education, which I am afraid many are not, they will eagerly seize the present opportunity to establish a school upon a permanent foundation, which is not to depend upon my continuing to reside in Philadelphia; for it is my candid opinion, that if a teacher should hereafter be wanted, it will be no difficult thing to find one. The first beginning alone is difficult; and as my object is not one of gain, I think it undeniable, that, all things considered, this is the favourable moment when the experiment should be tried, whether Israelites in this country are not able, not willing, to establish for themselves, like their brethren have done in many towns in Europe, a seminary, whence the seeds of righteousness are to be scattered far and near. I do not appeal to sectarian feelings, I possess none myself, for the truth, which our religion upholds, is no sectarian thing; but as Jews we are to observe many little ceremonies, are to acquire many details of religious duties, which none other but a Jew can impart. But, my friends, let it not be said, that Jews in oppressed Europe, where the name of an Israelite exposes the possessor to many vexatious restrictions, should accomplish whenever attempted, what the inhabitants of free and enlightened America failed even to attempt. To the work then! with a confident reliance upon the Giver of all good, and you must succeed! and in place of a decrease of pious and strict Jews; in place of empty benches in the house of worship; in place of public profanation of all our religion holds sacred: there will be an increase of righteousness and religious knowledge; the Synagogues will be crowded with worshippers who delight to call on God in their own—dear—national tongue, to them not a dead language; and the reproach of lukewarmness will not be any more uttered against us. I am not unconscious of my being but an individual, one whose life is not to be supposed irreproachable, still it is not to be said, that even by one so weak as I am much may not be done.

It is to be hoped, that persons having the means, will show their approbation of the undertaking, by bestowing as much as they can afford for the purpose of endowing the school, so that even poor children may enjoy the same advantages of education with the rich ones. All moneys

CIRCULAR.

New-York, יום ב' כ"א טבת תקצט לפק January, 7th 1839.

To the Parnassim and Elders of the Congregation, in Gentlemen.

The Trustees of the Congregation שארית ישראל in this city, the oldest in this country, aware how much the congregation has suffered from a want of a person every way competent to teach the hebrew grammatically, and to translate it in a manner to be perfectly comprehensive to the pupil; have adopted a resolution, authorizing and empowering the undersigned to address a circular to several congregations, making known their wants, and applying for the services of a competent person.

They desire therefore to know whether there is in your congregation the prospect of obtaining the services of a well educated young man, or one with a small family, capable of teaching the Hebrew, with the spanish and portuguese pronunciation, and also the rudiments, if not the more advanced parts, of an English education. It is also necessary that the person thus qualified as a teacher, should be able to aid our חזן in the discharge of his duties, as occasion may require: as in case of sickness &c. for which purpose he must understand the manner of chaunting the prayers and reading the כפר תורה according to the מנהג ספרדים and be possessed of a clear voice and distinct enunciation. Our main object is to procure a teacher, and one able to aid the חזן in one person.

It is needless to say that he must be a man of unblemished morality and piety, strict in his religion, devoted to his duties, and of good temper and address. To a person thus qualified, an income of one thousand dollars per annum, may be calculated on; with a prospect of doing better, should his services be every way acceptable, and his course of conduct popular with the Congregation.

Should you know of such a person in your district willing to come to this city, and answering, in every respect the qualifications required, you would essentially oblige the congregation by addressing either of us on the subject, detailing all the particulars, at your earliest convenience, accompanied with such vouchers as you may deem necessary, in order that the trustees may be able to come to an immediate conclusion.

We are, Gentlemen, your humble servants,

SAMUEL N. JUDAH,

ON THE
TEN TRIBES OF ISRAEL,
AND THE ABORIGINES OF AMERICA.

Our object in offering the following to the public, is to continue our investigation upon the subject, and to lead the enquiring mind, to the right source for information; which source is the foundation of all knowledge, and that knowledge is the BIBLE. The Bible tells of the return of God's chosen people, the Twelve Tribes of Israel, to their promised Land. It alone, has sustained us in this investigation for many years, as our publications have shown. The time appears to have arrived, and it is generally acceded to, that the way is opening for the return of Judah; the Jews, to Jerusalem. Should their return take place, it will be important to find where Israel, the Ten Tribes, now are, as, in finding them, the way to the Millenium will be shown more perfectly. For ourselves, we have had but one opinion, and that opinion had its origin (as before stated) from the Bible. We again come forward, with increasing belief; that the Aborigines of America, are the descendants of a portion of the lost Ten Tribes of Israel, and, that the ruins of ancient cities, &c., as also, relics daily opening from the ground on this Continent were once theirs. Let no other commentator than the Author of the Bible be resorted to, and it will show the lives the ten tribes were to lead; the manner they were to be taken into favor again, after being mostly consumed. "A remnant of them shall return, the consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousness." In many passages, forcible descriptions are given of what they were to suffer, before the Lord "returned them to their former estate," and the lives of our Aborigines agree with this description. To strengthen our position; it is discovered that the ruins found on this continent, correspond with those found in Egypt. The Hebrews were Egyptians. they were raised up in Egypt, from the time of Joseph to Moses, (say 400 years,) they commenced with only Seventy souls; it is reasonable to suppose, they were instructed in the Egyptian habits, customs, &c&c. similar to Europeans, born and brought up in America, are instructed in the habits and customs of the Americans. This Egyptian knowledge, accompanied them to the promised Land. Their idols were brought from Egypt, as may be seen Ezek. 23, particularly the 8, 19, 21, and 27 verses. While on their way to Canaan, Aaron set up an Idol Calf. Jeroboam, while king of the Ten Tribes, set up two Idol Calves, and told the Ten Tribes, that those Gods brought them out of Egypt. In the fifth year of Rehoboam, (King of Judah,) Shishak, King of Egypt, took Jerusalem, and took the treasures of the house of the Lord, and carried them to Egypt, (1 Kings, 14, 25, 26.) It is said the King of Egypt assisted Jeroboam against Judah, the two tribes. The Hebrews probably learnt the arts, and became an enlightened people through the Egyptians, and afterwards improved on what they had learned, but eventually lost all. It was the commencement of a knowledge (under God,) which raised the Temple of Solomon. Solomon married the daughter of Pharaoh. Shishak, king of Egypt was an ally of Jeroboam, king of the Ten Tribes after their separation from the Two Tribes*. Now we are taught to believe that after the Ten Tribes were dispersed they built Cities, Towers, &c. from which, they were to be cut off by the sword, famines, pestilence, &c. &c. that they were to lose the arts and be "stripped naked," that is, divested of all knowledge, both of God and civilization; at last a remnant were to return, after most were consumed. It is not believed that the Hebrews were oppressed by the Egyptians, the first three hundred years, their oppression commenced probably, only one hundred years previous to their deliverance through Moses; consequently, they had but small knowledge of deliverance, till Moses was directed by God to bring them out of bondage. To corroborate our belief relative to the Aborigines being of the Hebrew race, we add an extract from Latrobes Mexican, New York, 1836, page 156. "I have said, that up to the present time, none of the arguments employed to prove the descent of the American Aborigines; or of any part or distinct portion of them, from a particular people of the ancient world have seemingly gained universal belief. Nevertheless it must be admitted, that the light thrown by late researches, and the collection of evidence from various quarters in favor of the plausibility that the nations of Central America at least, are of Hebrew Origin." The exhibition of the Indian character by Mr. Catlin, now in Europe, is a circumstance calculated to open a knowledge of the Aborigines of America, beyond what has before been known in Europe. And it would seem that it was preparing a way for a "remnant" to return, to be re-united with the two tribes, agreeably to prophecy. Let us now open our eyes upon the Aborigines of America, and also upon the signs of the times, and we shall see the hand of God in bringing, not only Judah, the Jews; but Israel, the ten tribes back to His favor. And, it will also be well for us all to reflect upon Daniels blessing on such as have the privilege of living in, and receiving the benefit of the 75 years, over and above the 1260 years. the Church was to be in the wilderness, in which 75 years, we believe, the Holy Spirit was to be powerfully manifested to the world, and that, immediately preceding the Millenium. And, as we have formerly stated as our belief, the 75 years commenced about the year 1793, and will close in 1868.

We will further add, the Bible does not warrant any set of men in an attempt to organize the spirit of God into a system. It is to be obtained only from the "Heart's sincere desire," and to be received as "the wind bloweth where it listeth." Neither does the Bible say, we must wait for the spirit to come in a "still small voice," it only says that it came to Elijah in that voice; but since the crucifixion, it comes in a power that is not to be resisted. We are grieved to hear men, who possess general knowledge on other subjects, ask, "what good can result from such investigations?" and what is still more surprising is, that this question is often asked by professors of Religion. We can tell them, the Bible instructs us to believe that when this opening for the return of the two and ten tribes to Palestine takes place; it will be one of the greatest lights to the christian cause that has been shown since the crucifixion of Christ; (but remember the tribulation that is to precede it,) it will teach the partizan christian, that he is no Christian; it will teach the professor, that he is not a possessor; it will teach that the Christian Religion does not require the art of man to find it out; it will teach, that God alone is to be enquired of, and that being washed with water, eating bread, and drinking wine, in imitation of Christs Supper with his 12 chosen Apostles; and serving the Lord one day in seven, will not take a person into the Kingdom, that will be about to be revealed; It will allow the righteous only to understand; the world will then be made to see who is foolish and who is wise. 25—A.

NEW-ALBANY, INDIANA, AUGUST, 1840.

*There was an intercourse between the ten tribes and the Egyptians, until the ten tribes were dispersed, by which, the Egyptian Idol Worship was (as we say,) brought to the American Continent.

THE TRIALS OF COMMANDER U. P. LEVY,

UNITED STATES NAVY.

During the pendency of the last trial of Commander Levy, reference having been made in a newspaper to the several Courts Martial that had been held upon him, with the view of prejudicing the public against him, the following article appeared in the New York New Era, which had the effect to remove from candid minds the unfavorable impressions that misrepresentations had produced in relation to his character.

There are also added several articles as to the condition of the Vandalia on her arrival at Norfolk under his command, on board of which vessel it has been alleged he practised much cruelty.

The circular of the Navy Department, recommending the substitution of badges of disgrace, and other lighter punishments, for corporeal punishment, is likewise subjoined.

From the New York New Era.

THE CASE OF CAPTAIN LEVY—LET JUSTICE BE DONE.

Having seen in the Independent, a newspaper published in Washington city, an article reflecting with unequalled severity upon the conduct of Captain Uriah P. Levy; and, feeling satisfied that the want of correct information in relation to this gentleman has caused such a departure from the line of justice, common courtesy, and good taste, while the proceedings of the Court-Martial that lately tried him are undergoing the inspection of the Executive, we have collected from the best sources of information the following important particulars, which we have compared with the Independent's bill of indictment, item by item, and for these we ask the careful consideration of a candid public.

No. 1. In the year 1816, while sailing master of the Franklin 74, Mr. Levy fought a duel with Mr. Potter, who had been Captain Dallas's secretary. Seven shots were exchanged; at the sixth, Mr. Levy was wounded in the foot, and at the seventh Mr. Potter was mortally wounded. A cousin of Mr. Potter then challenged Mr. Levy; but this challenge was communicated to Commodore Murray by a superior officer, and the Commodore wrote Mr. Levy a peremptory order, forbidding him to challenge or accept of a challenge. After this order had been received, Mr. Levy was insulted by the marine officer of the Franklin, who had been his second

A NEW YEAR'S GIFT

TO THE

MARYLAND LADIES' SOCIETY

FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIANITY AMONG THE JEWS.

BY THE

RIGHT REVEREND RABBI, HEBREW REPUBLICAN CITIZEN-SOLDIER.

Most dear, charming, and most Christian Ladies.

ALTHOUGH I am a Jew, still as a man I can assure you that there is not a person who feels a higher regard and esteem towards the Ladies than I sincerely do; but finding you have left your natural female element, and have clapt on religious breeches, to dragoon about missionaring, in order to uncircumcise the Circumcised, I think this rather a delicate business, and though as a man it cannot be indifferent to me what female part you intent to play or put in operation for such a most delicate purpose, still I do not suspect that you would intentionally prostitute your female dignity to serve as priestly beasts of burden for mere church policy, malicious and insidious sectarian purposes. I am rather inclined to suppose that by your construing or misconstruing Scripture. you are induced to form a strong female attachment, and more than sisterly love towards the Hebrew nation, I therefore take upon myself the liberty to call your female attention to an historical fact related in Scripture, which seems in my humble judgment will serve as a guide for your female dignity how to behave yourselves towards the Jews, viz. In the 22d chapter of Numbers, we find related the remarkable transactions of Balaam and his Ass, apparently as a great miracle, that the most stupid of animals should speak like a rational being. The question is, who is the eye witness ? the evidence in this most remarkable case ? Why, nobody else than the old fellow Balaam himself;—

FROM THE SOUTHERN QUARTERLY REVIEW.

THE REFORMED ISRAELITES.

1. Twelve Sermons, delivered in the New Temple of the Israelites at Hamburgh, by Dr. GOTTHOLD SALOMON. Translated from the German, by ANNA MARIA GOLDSMID. First American Edition. London and Charleston. 1841.
2. Instructions in the Mosaic Religion, from the German of Johlson, translated by the Rev. ISAAC LEESER. Philadelphia. 5594.
3. The Mosaic System, in its fundamental principles, by the Rev. Dr. LEWIS SALOMON, Minister of the Congregation Rodif Shalone. · Philadelphia. 5601.

THERE are manifestations of late of a considerable movement among the Israelites of England and America, having for its object some radical reforms in their doctrines and modes of worship. What we note is not an abandonment by modern Jews of their ancient name and their ancient religion, but a disclaimer of the authority of mere tradition,—a disuse of idle, superstitious and burthensome ceremonies,—a higher respect for the unadulterated Law of God, than for the human testimony of dogmatical Rabbins,—for the Bible than for the Talmud. What we note, is a determination, on their part, to restore Judaism to its original simplicity, to render the doctrine of Moses and the Prophets,—the inspired Scriptures,—more authoritative than "the commandments of men," and without altering the substance of their religion, and fully retaining its spirit, to adapt their institutions and their worship, in some good degree, to the demands of an enlightened age, and to the feelings, expectations, and even necessities of an intelligent and educated people. Such a reform is greatly needed. The Jews have long owed it to themselves, to their children, their country and their age, to render their religion respectable, by rendering it intelligible, not only to the mass of those who are to be more immediately benefitted by the worship of the Synagogue, but to all others, who are curious to know what the real faith of the Israelite is. On this subject, much might be said, and much in which the honest Israelite might not concur with us, as our standards of faith are different, and the measures of reform, which we might respectively consider demanded in

Days dawn and they close, they break upon us in health and in sickness, prosperity may be in our dwelling, or we may be oppressed by the weight of adverse fortune; but be they days of joy or sorrow, they cannot be recalled; and with each

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

In the circular announcing our intention to publish this Journal, we set forth that the ASMONEAN would be devoted to the advocacy of a congregational Union of the Israelites of the United States, and the general dissemination of information relating to the people. That its columns would be open to all and every communication appertaining to our Societies, our Congregations, our Literature, and our Religion. That all Foreign and Domestic News would be collected up to the latest moment prior to going to press, and that all matters of public interest, would be temperately commented on. At the commencement of our labors, we deem a necessary acknowledgment that statements, in order that there may be no misconception of the purpose and intention of the proprietors of this Journal. Emanating from a zealous desire to incite the cultivation of a Unity of action between the learned and the philanthropic of Israel, and of diffusing amongst our brethren, a better knowledge of the principles of the Jewish Faith, the paper comes into existence perfectly unfettered and unpledged. Free from the trammels of the school of casuistry, we are disposed to act according to the maxims of our sages ודרוש וקבל שכר "Investigate and acquire merit," this we hope to do soberly and humbly, craving at the hands of our co-religionists, who are better qualified, every aid and assistance which it is in the power of eminent talent to grant to those less gifted than themselves, for it is the duty of all Israelites to further every undertaking having a tendency to dissipate existing prejudices, and induce a better understanding of the true interests of Israel as a religious brotherhood. What is the value of ambition which seeks distinctions in the pursuits of commerce, the labors of the bar, or the senate, compared with that which seeks the elevation not merely of the individual, but of the Jewish people? "No man can hope to attain eminence as a Jew, or glory in remaining one, until he has done his share to removing the prejudices of darker times." It is with these sentiments, and not in a spirit of arrogance, that we have assumed the grave responsibility of Directors of a public Journal. As journalists, we may lack experience, but we are not deficient of zeal in our desire of preserving our national integrity, and averting the curse of infidelity from our people.

Our arrangements for obtaining intelligence respecting country congregations are at present incomplete. We shall at the earliest moment appoint correspondents in every section of the States, and by the exercise of unremitting enterprise, make our paper the means of concentrating the energies and resources of the believers in Israel.

Whenever the subscription list of the Journal warrants it, or the demands of our Advertisers encroach on our Columns, we will increase the size of our paper. Correspondence from all parts of America and Europe relating to our people, may be transmitted at the Editors charge. Communications appertaining to private interests must necessarily be post-paid.

SPEEDY JUSTICE.

Our State Legislature with a host of legal empyrics, have been for many sessions, the former actively, the latter for themselves, profitably employed in pruning and training, extirpating and replanting the pestific vice called the code, exhibiting at various times certain portions as plants of extraordinary vigour, capable of resisting the insidious action of the many caterpillars crawling about the Courts, and of affording shelter and protection when necessary, yet, were a stranger to enter several of the Courts, and observe the mode in which the business is conducted, he would conclude that speedy justice was a term without meaning, and that there were many places to depart from the city, besides those enumerated in the published lists of amusements of the day. The San Francisco method, with its rough and ready call on the posse comitatus, its instanter election of judges, and impaneling of juries, with all the passions strong upon them, is far better worthy of adoption than New York's retinue of enquiring justices, investigating and petty juries, and sentencing judges; if the proceedings upon all the late trials of importance are to be considered fair specimens of the administration of justice. Witness the late reports of the mode of obtaining a juror in the case of the people against Judson and others. Now, was it possible to find a citizen with a gleam of intelligence beyond a beast of burthen, who had not heard of the Astor Place disturbance, of the slaughter of many persons on the eventful night in May, yet the admission of such knowledge, made by calling things by their proper term, and a public tumult is a riot, if riot have any meaning, was held to be a ground of incompetency in a juryman, and in the case of the people against John Price, for the murder of G. W. Campbell, at Baltimore, where the Court decided that no man who had read the accounts of the murder as published in the newspapers, could be competent to sit as a juror, as his reading must have created an impression of the guilt of the prisoner, and therefore, after calling 700 talesmen, and spending three days, at an enormous expense to the county, they were obliged to remand the prisoner, and change the venue.

We will suppose, (which was the fact) a man to be found dead, under such circumstances as leave no doubt that his death proceeded from the violence of others, would a man be morally incompetent to sit as a juror, because a grand jury had returned a true bill, or the proposed juryman had read an account of the murder, and believed that it had been perpetrated. What has his reading to do with the evidence to be offered in the case, for on that, and that only, is the verdict to be founded. We refrain from offering all that occurs to us upon the ruling of the triers in these cases, but we cannot resist calling the judges attention to the fact, that many of the decisions tend to lower public estimation of the common sense acumen of the legal author ities we instance one point which strikes us as particularly rich. In re Judson, "The court suggested to the triers
